25X1A9a Dear [REDACTED] (SA/DCI)

The research study you entrusted to me is now complete. This is to thank you for the truly remarkable help your agency gave me, without which the study would have been later and poorer.

25X1A9a In particular, I want to thank you for the loan of [REDACTED] the remarkable achievement of [REDACTED] 25X1A9a in completing the long paper* in time for it to be of help to us the continuing help and advice of [REDACTED] 25X1A9a [REDACTED], and to others on your staff, and 25X1A9a the way your people made it easy for me - when they could have made it very hard - to use your Agency's materials and facilities.

I sincerely hope the study will be useful,

Yours very truly,

Wilbur Schramm

- b. There is much less duplication between IAC agencies than there are economic areas that we have not yet been able to cover. Duplication is minimal because of close liaison between IAC agencies on exchange of research programs and finished reports.
- c. Inter-IAC agency coordination is improving continually through the EIC Subcommittee on Electronics and Telecommunications, the CIA Inter-Office Telecommunications Advisory Committee (IOTAC), and frequent contact between IAC agencies and exploitation of their raw, semi-finished, and finished studies. The greatest area for improvement in coordination is currently being negotiated with a special source agency.
